CHARGE Anywhere® is a Top Performer at CTIA'S E-Tech Awards

South Plainfield, NJ (March 26, 2010) - CHARGE Anywhere®, for Android™ won third place in the Mobile Applications - Mobile Payments Category in the CTIA Emerging Technology (E-Tech) Awards. More than 80 prominent media and industry analysts judged the 300-plus entries submitted for the E-Tech Awards program this year. Products and services were judged on innovation, functionality, technological importance, implementation and the overall "wow" factor. Winners were announced during International CTIA WIRELESS 2010 which took place March 23-25 at the Las Vegas Convention Center.

CHARGE Anywhere® for Android™ was recognized as a top performer in the Mobile Payments Category with its solution that enables merchants to quickly, easily and securely accept card payments at the point-of-sale or point-of-service-anytime, anywhere along with other top performing companies USAA and Mophie. The award-winning solution, available through select certified distributors, consists of in-house developed software for Android smart phones, a Bluetooth® card reader and receipt printer and proprietary payment gateway services. CHARGE Anywhere, LLC has created a comprehensive, end-to-end platform capable of offering complete PCI security and unsurpassed mobile payment capabilities on any wireless network. Through CHARGE Anywhere LLC's PCI DSS Level 1 payment gateway, the solution works with any major US payment processor and merchant account provider.

Using optional hardware such as a Bluetooth printer with integrated card reader, the CHARGE Anywhere® solution helps merchants receive the lowest possible credit card processing rate and the best customer experience. Sales receipts can also be printed at the point-of-sale. The smartphone's touch screen interface enables electronic signature capture, eliminating the requirement for merchants to retain paper copies of signed receipts.

CHARGE Anywhere's solutions are also winners of the 2009 Best of Interop-PCI Security Solution, and the 2009 Electronic Transaction Association Technology Innovation Award.
